

INFORMATION AND SERVICES

MISSION:

My mission is to help people live a more intentional, productive life and surround themselves with the things they love. I believe that strategic organizing and space planning will transform how you feel about your life and how you function in your space.

I work with your existing furniture and belongings and help you edit the items that no longer serve you. This not only maximizes space but improves functionality, increases clarity, and reduces stress. Living more intentionally can reduce impulse spending and increase focus on quality over quantity and purpose over accumulation.

Whether you need focused attention on one problematic area or a complete home transformation, my expertise in space-planning, organizing, and design will create customized systems that not only look beautiful but make room for the life you want to live.

PROCESS / WHAT TO EXPECT:

1. Consultation: This process begins with touring your space and discussing your organizing goals. This allows me to understand your routines, stress points, and challenges. I will take measurements, photos for detailed planning, and get a feel for your style. I can answer any questions, discuss pricing, and your schedule or timeline.

2. Proposal: Following the consultation, I will create a customized proposal for you to review. The plan will outline timeline, expectations and recommend storage solutions. This proposal will not include specific items to purchase, which will be discussed after the sorting phase. Any purchases will be decided on with you as needed.

3. Edit & Sort: The organizing begins. You do not need to be present while the magic is happening, so the timeline will not interfere with your already busy life. First step is clearing out the space to edit, sort, and categorize each item. I will help you with identifying what you want to keep, donate, discard, or relocate, and help you with emotional attachments. After the sorting, I will map out a tailored plan and organizing solutions for you and discuss any purchases that need to be made.

4. Product Install & Customizing Systems: Once space is sorted, we will select and purchase storage solutions that appeal to your aesthetics and budget. I will install all of your new organizing products and space plan any furniture if needed. This process focuses on creating intuitive systems that will help you to maintain the level of order that works for you and is easy to maintain.

6. Final Tour & Walk Through: When complete, we will walk the space and review systems to confirm everything functions as needed. I will discuss practical strategies and simple routines that are realistic for your daily life, which will give you the confidence to maintain the space on your own. I can also discuss a maintenance plan if you need me to return and help reset or develop more systems as your life changes.
